Reggae Warriors: The Best Of Aswad

Reggae's roots may have been forged in Jamaica but the music found a profound creative echo in Britain – and Aswad have represented the finest in UK-based reggae for more than 30 years. From their early days as Notting Hill Carnival heroes to their chart-topping success in the 1980s and beyond, Aswad have been tireless musical warriors on reggae's front-line. This compilation captures the band's potent roots sound at its righteous best...

- This material brings together the very best of the band's work from the 1990s and includes several memorable singles from the period as well as tracks from their fine 1994 album "Rise And Shine".
- Contains the Top 5 hit 'Shine' as well as a host of favourite remixes.
- Aswad have a new album due out in summer 2009 and the first single is a cover of Howard Jones' 'What Is Love?' on which they have collaborated with Sweetie Irie.
- Compiler and sleeve note writer is contributor and editor to Songlines magazine Nigel Williamson.
